

put this on ~~page~~ the site whats up sweet heart? I enjoy meeting new people and making new friends. I am a lonely incarcerated man in search of a real woman's conversation and correspondence. As you may imagine life in here is so incomplete without that outside contact without that letter to look forward to every now & again without that one friend you can talk to and share your thoughts and feelings with, without that special flower to help to fill the void. So if you have room for improvement in your life then I can only hope that you will grant me the opportunity to make a difference my philosophy about life friendship isn't about perfect people but rather loving imperfect people perfectly. Are you the ~~one~~ one for me? Are you the lucky star I end this with an extended invitation to enter ~~my~~ my world. Please brighten up these dark days. Contact me at the address below.
